Earth Day

2010

April 22nd

Please take this moment to read this brief message.
Thank you!

Are you aware of these very “uncomfortable” facts.....

- The plastic bags we get from the supermarkets and stores take 800 years, yes that’s correct, 800 years, to break down and disintegrate.
- Last year the US produced 120 billion tons of thermoplastics.
- We are in the middle of the “Age of Plastic.” Those beneficial properties of plastic - durability, moldability, resistance to air, water, mold and heat - have made it a material that never goes away.
- Almost every piece of plastic that was manufactured still exists in one form or another!
- All is not lost...We can do something positive!

In observance of our Earth Day April 22nd, we ask for your pledge that for the months of April & May you switch over to BIODEGRADABLE TRASH & GARBAGE BAGS.

Forty years after the first Earth Day,
OUR EARTH is in greater peril
Than ever.

Replace those plastic bags currently being used with ones that are biodegradable and will begin to break down in JUST 90 DAYS!!
These bags are engineered to totally decompose in 24 months or less!

It’s Easy to institute:

- Step 1: go to www.ShopHealthyLife.com
